Summary: Although the European Union (EU) undeniably plays a key role in international politics, law and economics, it faces serious international and domestic challenges. The EU remains a key actor in the development of a number of international policies and as a promoter of effective multilateralism. It continues to ‘import’ and ‘export’ both policies and norms. The EU is also a key interlocutor for states and regional bodies throughout the world. However, changes in the international system and various international crises have an impact on the international role of the EU and its member states, testing the latter’s ability to act and adapt. This course aims to acquaint the students with the history of the EU, its Institutions, integration theories, current issues and foreign policy of the EU, EU policy in the South Caucasus, EU-Russia relations, EU-USA relations.
